Welcome to Author Events

Welcome to Author Events! We're delighted to have you join our community. Our network isn't just for authors — it's built on collaboration with editors, designers, marketers, and all the professionals who help books come to life. This pack is your guide to showcasing your services, building partnerships, and connecting with authors and industry peers.

Support The Community

Author Events is a community project. Together we make events, launches, and opportunities possible. The more support we raise, the more we can grow — keeping memberships accessible and creating even more chances for authors and readers to connect.

Ko-fi

Support us by sharing our Ko-fi page or contributing directly. Every supporter helps us grow and offer more to the community.
